ALL JOINED THE UNION

Manley's Band and Roe's Orchestra Taken In.

CELEBRATED IT BY A FEAST

The Long Struggle Between the Two Military Bands Came to an End Last Night—Several Applications Not Yet Acted Upon—A Special Meeting Called.

There was joy and rejoicing among the members of the Musical union last night as they took prodigious steps to the number of 25 into the fold.

For some time it has been known that the majority of the musicians have contemplated joining the union, and at the regular meeting last night they made good their word. Manley's band was among the first to seek entrance to the union. They have long been firm in their refusal to join, and their determination was caused in part by reports that the Haynes band had misrepresented them during the strike. This, although untrue, caused bad feeling, and to many it was a surprise that the band had consented to join their brethren in the business.

Last night when the union convened it was found that they had 27 applications for membership. This included the Manley band and Professor Roe's orchestra, as well as two musicians who were connected with no orchestra or band, Harry Ebberts and George Rowe. Of these, 25 were initiated, and some amendments to the bylaws proposed. A special meeting was announced for Friday evening next to consider the amendments and nominate officers for the ensuing year, and then the musical people took a jaunt to C. A. Fowler's restaurant where a bounteous repast awaited them. The tables were soon covered and the happy assemblage quickly set to work devouring delicious oysters neatly served and talking the whole matter over. About 60 in all were present and the supper lasted until midnight. President George Phillips then addressed the audience and said in part:

"Regarding this joining the union I will say that the recent labor troubles forced us to make the move. It was the power of unionism in East Liverpool today. With the last victory unionism carried everything before it and it has forced the men to go into the ranks tonight. We all realize that in union there is strength and I trust that which has heretofore existed between us will exist no longer. Our trouble was a continued fight and a bitter feeling resulted. This has indeed been disagreeable, and I hope that by the power of unionism and good fellowship such feeling will be done away with. When we meet each other now we will greet and be greeted as friend." The speaker was loudly applauded.

Mr. Phillips called on Tommy Roe, saying that Tommy had requested that he call on him as he had a few words to say. Amid the laughter Tommy denied the assertion.

Benton Knowles was also called upon, and created much laughter by saying that he had one peculiarity. That was that his stomach controlled his mind, and therefore, as his stomach was full, his mind was gone, and he begged to be excused.

O. E. Walters made a brief and timely address. He said: "I have heard a story of other days, almost a quarter of a century ago, when a meeting different from this one was held. There are probably some here tonight who were there, but they are few. The spirit of tonight's meeting I hope will continue. The honor of this reconciliation is due to trades unionism, and I give the credit to the trades union and the American Federation of Labor, the strongest organization in the United States today. Harmony is what music consists of, and if we can't have harmony we are not musicians. I hope it will always prevail."

The meeting last night brought out a fact that was surprising to some; that of their being 70 male musicians in the union and some still outside of it. Lady musicians are not admitted to the union.

AT THE RINK.

A Big Audience Present—A Splendid Program Tonight.

The ladies of the auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association are to be congratulated on the wonderful success which has attended their entertainment from its commencement. There was an immense audience present on the first night, and 120 suppers were served. Last night between 100 and 200 meals were served, meals which were worth double the money asked for them, and all patrons were delighted with the feast. On the first night the young ladies of the drill brigade won warm applause for their artistic drill, and hundreds will turn out to see them tonight. At the request of numerous elderly persons, the young ladies will drill for 20 minutes tonight, commencing at 8 o'clock sharp, and again from 10 and until 10:30. There was a splendid audience present last night, and the officials of the auxiliary were very much pleased in consequence. At 8:45 o'clock the program opened with a piano duet by Misses Campbell and Swaynee, the ladies being warmly applauded for their really artistic performance. Duet by Miss Minnie Quay and Mr. Ed McIntosh followed, with Miss Mary Campbell playing accompaniment. This selection was really a gem, and received the recognition it so richly deserved. Next came a selection by the Midway Plaisance band, composed of hayseeds from away back, dressed in every conceivable costume, while the instruments of torture they operated defied description by pen or pencil. Their first was a comic selection, and in response to a hearty encore they rendered "Home, Sweet Home," in such an execrable mixture of discord that Officer Wyman threatened to arrest and incarcerate the offenders.

Miss Clara Chapman favored the assembly with a nicely-rendered piano solo, and the male octette made merry music for the crowd. The "Hayseed band" was called to the front again, and created strong, health-giving laughter.

Go and see the drill tonight. Competent critics will tell you that the ladies do wonderfully skillful drilling. See the four young ladies do the bayonet exercise and skirmish drill.

Go and get your supper this evening. All the good things in life. Do your share in helping the ladies along.

BULLETS AND BLOOD.

A Gory Fight at the Coulson Saloon—Two Arrests.

About 2:15 o'clock this afternoon an exciting shooting affray occurred in the saloon of Mrs. Mary Coulson, Franklin street.

Chongeye Carraher went into the place drunk and soon engaged in a dispute with Charles Coulson, son of the proprietor. Carraher pulled a bull dog revolver and Coulson, although a mere boy, grabbed a similar weapon. Each fired but without effect, and as they raised their weapons again Mrs. Clark, an aged lady and the mother of Mrs. Coulson, ran in. Two more shots were fired and one, coming she claims, from Carraher's revolver, struck Mrs. Clark in the right leg, just above the knee. The floor was covered with blood when Officer Badgely arrived and called the patrol. Coulson and Carraher are now in jail.

WILLING WORKERS.

Earnest and Willing Helpers at the Fair.

There are grandly glorious workers at the fair, working in the interest of the ladies auxiliary, the Young Men's Christian association and humanity at large. Among others deserving especial credit, may be named Mrs. J. C. Taggart, chairman of the executive committee, Mrs. George Matheny, treasurer, Mrs. Henry Goodwin, Mr. J. C. Allison, Mr. J. T. King, Mr. Will Morris, Mr. Page Myler, Mr. Joe Herbert and many others whom we cannot remember at present writing. The merchants and business men of our town have been more than generous in contributing food and other articles, and the ladies return to them most sincere thanks. The writer started out this morning and soon had seven nice chickens contributed, and one well known butcher gave the choicest and plumpest quarter of lamb in his establishment. And kindred acts of noble charity are numerous in our city. Let everybody attend the fair to-night.

TO THE AMERICAN MECHANICS.

Here is a Matter of the Most Vital Importance.

On next Tuesday night week, every member of the Senior Mechanics should be present at their hall, as a matter of the most vital importance will be brought up for consideration. One of the most eloquent platform orators of the day, an earnest advocate of the order and the principles advocated thereby, will be present, and will entertain those in attendance in a manner which they will never forget. Each and every member of the Senior Mechanics who reads this article should make it their business to acquaint every other member with the importance of attending this special meeting, Tuesday, Nov. 27, and thus avoid deep regret.

ONE BLOW ON THE NECK

Knocked Out Jack Faulkner in a Fight.

TWO MEN HAD A DIFFERENCE

Which Was Settled in Style Over the River Last Night—Seventy-five Friends Witnessed the Mill—Four Rounds Caused a Settlement.

Jack Faulkner, a shoemaker, and Harry Heath, a potter, fought four bloody rounds on the grounds of the gun club in West Virginia last evening, thereby settling a long standing grudge.

The men have long been anything but friends, a money transaction being the cause of their troubles. As both knew the art of knocking, a match was arranged, and the date set, while about 75 friends were invited to be present. The coming mill was kept a profound secret, and nothing was known of it beyond given confines. The party crossed the river late yesterday afternoon, and without the formality of placing a flag the men began to fight. They presented an unusual sight as they stood ready for battle, Heath towering fully four inches above his opponent, while it was apparent that he weighed at least 50 pounds more than Faulkner. James Cherry was referee, Jack Hassey, of this city, and James Elder, of Trenton, were seconds for Faulkner, and James Massey filled the same position for Heath. The men used four ounce gloves. The rounds were as follows:

First—Faulkner lead off striking Heath in the breast. Landed heavily. He had the best from the start, the remainder of the round being a running fight around the ring.

Second—Heath came up fresh and pleasant and three knock downs were scored for each man, Heath getting first blood. Faulkner got a heavy blow in the face, and the round ended in a fierce fighting.

Third—Heath sparred for an opening, and succeeded in landing a heavy blow on his opponent's neck. Faulkner retired groggy.

Fourth—Faulkner was in place, but very weak from the blow on his neck, so weak that Hassey decided that he could fight no more.

Heath was declared the winner and the crowd came home. All the bad blood between the two men seemed to have been spilled during the fight, as the victory of Heath was complete. The men will not be disturbed by the authorities of West Virginia as Hancock county seems to care nothing for its reputation.

A MINISTER'S VIEW.

Rev. J. C. Taggart Opposes Sunday Excursions.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW.—In your paper of yesterday there is an advertisement of a "Sunday excursion to Pittsburg" by our railroad at a round trip rate much lower than the usual excursion rates.

The fact that such an excursion is proposed is no doubt a cause of sorrow to all who love the peace and quiet of the Lord's day, and who have a true appreciation of the value of this day in preserving the good order of society.

What was our surprise on reading a note in your "local brevities," apparently commending the action of the railroad authorities in departing from their "avowed principle of not running trains on the first day of the week." This is so contrary to the usual tone of your paper in advocating the principles of public morals that I cannot think you really meant to commend the action of the railroad officials in this matter. I hope you may speak out against it with all the clearness and vigor you did against the Sunday boat excursions which some time ago disgraced our city.

None who love the prosperity of our city will object to what you say about our town deserving concessions from the railroad. But we want all these concessions in the line of what will be for the true and permanent good of our city. We want no concessions in the way of lawlessness and Sabbath desecration. We have too much of that now.

We hope that all who believe the Sabbath a necessity to the good order of society, will not only refuse to be tempted by the mean offer of low excursion rate on the Sabbath, but that they will do what they can to keep others from patronizing the "Sunday train." Let them also by letter and petitions inform the officials of the railroad that we deplore the appointment of this "Sunday excursion" and do not wish it repeated. If God's people act promptly and energetically in this matter we may be saved from the curse of Sunday excursions on our railroad.

Permit me to enforce the thought I would fix in the minds of our citizens by some quotations, in reference to the value of the Sabbath in its influence on public morals.

Justice McLean said: "Where there is no Christian Sabbath there is no Christian morality, and, without this, free institutions cannot long be sustained."

Governor Ellsworth, of Connecticut, in a message to the legislature said: "The Christian religion owes its extension and its power over the consciences of men to the institution and influence of the Sabbath."

Chancellor Kent said: "Christianity in its enlarged sense, as a religion revealed and taught in the bible, is not unknown to our law. The statute for preventing immorality consecrates the first day of the week as holy time and considers the violation of it immoral."

Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "The Sunday is the core of our civilization." De Tocqueville, an eminent French writer, said: "France must have her American Sabbath or she is ruined."

In contrast with these testimonies and yet affirming the same truth, Voltaire, the noted infidel, said: "There is no hope of destroying the Christian religion so long as the Christian Sabbath is acknowledged and kept by men as a sacred day."

We hope that there will be so few of our citizens put themselves on the side of the infidel by patronizing the "Sunday excursion" of next Sabbath, that this form of Sabbath desecration may not be repeated.

J. C. TAGGART.

P. S.—I would also like to ask the pastors and official boards of the various churches of our city to take the voice of their congregation in reference to this matter on the coming Sabbath and transmit the same to the superintendent of the railroad.

DOCTORS AND DRUGGISTS.

A Lively Row Promised For the Future.

At a lengthy meeting of physicians it was decided to ask the druggists to discontinue the practice of counter prescribing—that is, giving people medicine when they come without a prescription, and do not know what they need. The doctors believe the practice is largely carried on, and will open a drug store of their own if it is continued, and let the druggists get what trade they can. They claim that it is unprofessional. A few dead beats were added to the list, and a few were taken off leaving no great improvement.

Editor Interviewed.

A special from Washington says: "Doctor Ikirt, representative of the McKinley district, has returned to this city, after an absence of three months. He spent two months of his absence on his farm in Tennessee, which he has not seen in a score of years. Mr. Ikirt attributes the immense majority of the Republican candidate in his district to the business depression which has prevailed there for the past two years, and which the people charged to the party in power. Ikirt, it will be remembered, heard the rumbling of the avalanche and was not a candidate for re-election."

The Brotherhood Incorporated.

The National Brotherhood of Operative Potters has been incorporated at Columbus by A. S. Hughes, Frank Allison, J. H. Grafton, L. Eardley, Will Pettinger, Walter Locke and Christian Wetzel. None but working potters are eligible to the order, which is formed for the mutual protection, elevation and relief of operative potters and their families, and for the purpose of cooperation in all matters affecting the interests of the craft. East Liverpool is headquarters, and the officers are: President, A. S. Hughes; secretary, Charles McCauley, treasurer, Samuel Eardley.

Determined to Wait.

An Ironclad tin worker was in town today, and talked freely of the strike, but asked that his name be kept from the public. He said they were willing to wait, because they believed the company could not get enough men to work the plant, and they would scortize of the experience of teaching, because of the expense and the time involved. They have every reason to believe that a few months will settle the strike at the farthest, and there are possibilities that it will end sooner. He said there was no fear of violence.

Fell In the Fire.

Miss Allie Pickal, a daughter of John Pickal, was chasing a rat in a room yesterday when she slipped and fell, one of her arms going into a grate. She got out of the painful position as soon as possible, but not before the member was badly scorched. The young lady's mother had her arm burned only a few days ago.

WHITE SWAN IN LISBON

She Was There Several Days This Week.

MCGREGOR KNOWS HIS POSITION

A New Lisbon View of the Approaching Trial. Evidence May be Started on Monday Afternoon. It Will be a Battle Royal Between the Attorneys.

Special to the News Review.

NEW LISBON, Nov. 17.—Preparations for the McGregor trial are in progress, and a suppressed vein of excitement about the courthouse shows that everyone is expecting the great criminal event next week.

The NEWS REVIEW was right when it stated a few days ago that Alma Walters, the "White Swan," is in the hands of the prosecution. She was brought here this week and was for several days at the Commercial House. After staying there she was taken from town at night, and her present whereabouts is unknown. It is generally believed that upon the testimony she will give rests the fate of the accused. It is the general opinion that a jury will be secured without a great deal of trouble, and the hearing of testimony will be started on Monday afternoon. McGregor realizes the position in which he is placed, and it is generally reported here that he is growing nervous. The battle between the attorneys of the opposing sides will be a royal contest, and all the attorneys in town are interested.

Among the Sick.

Mrs. William Malkin, of Houston addition is ill with cramp colic.

C. F. Young, of the Calcutta road, who has been sick with heart trouble, is much worse, and is in a serious condition.

Mrs. Ryan is quite ill at her home near the China works.

Mrs. McLaughlin, of West End, is ill with congestion of the lungs.

Mrs. John Huffman, of Broadway, is recovering from a long illness.

Settled at Tiltonville.

The strike at Tiltonville has been settled, and the men will all go back to work. The arrangement with the company is the same as was to prevail when it was arranged to start over a week ago. The few men who left when the strike was inaugurated will return, and all is well. The company made no attempt to start while the strike was on, and will push matters now that there is no trouble. The strike lasted less than two weeks.

Hoss and Hoss Coming.

Joseph W. Keeler, advance agent for Hoss and Hoss, was in the city today, and arranged for the appearance of the play at the Grand next Friday evening. Willie Collier does not appear with the company this year, but Jacques Kruger, who for several years played Jim in "Blue Jeans," will take his place. This insures the success of the play.

Very Appropriate.

A traveling man in the city today remarked that while in Philadelphia he noticed something appropriate in cigarettes. It was simply a box shaped in exact imitation of a coffin, and containing the usual number of smokes. They are said to be good sellers.

Mrs. Dawson Ill.

Doctor Marshall was summoned by telegram to Smith's Ferry this afternoon where Mrs. Sarah Dawson, mother of the late Will H. Dawson, is very ill. The shock of the tragedy is the cause.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, NOV. 17.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

The News Review for news.
DAVID B. HILL has not said a word for a week.

The people of Fayette county should not forget that they are a part of the great state of Ohio, and the destroying hand of justice will prevent a repetition of their latest threats.

The Homesteads and is glad because the Democrats were so badly whipped a few days ago. Yet the Home belongs to a party whose tarriff belief differs little from that of Democracy.

The peculiar condition existing in the West will be dissipated during the next few years. With Kansas from under the destroying rule of the Populists, there is hope that the state will recover its business energy.

The various candidates for governor of Ohio have already started to lay plans which will end in victory or defeat, and before going too far every man should remember that party honor is above personal ambition.

A DEMOCRATIC ISSUE.

Defeated and disgraced with the tariff as an issue, the leaders of Democracy are now in search of some burning question in the hope of again deceiving the public into giving them political power. Every Democratic paper is willing to declare, on the slightest provocation, that the Gorman bill settled the tariff, and all future dangers will come from the manner in which the money question is to be settled. Poor fellows. They are so blinded by the force of the blow delivered last week that they are unable to view matters in the right light. They cannot hope, if they have canvassed the situation, to expect the people to kill the tariff question now that so great a victory has been won. Far from it. The people realize that tariff is wages, and as long as duties are low and foreign goods come pouring in, wages will be proportionately low. The money problem is without doubt a most important matter, but it will never replace the tariff as long as the latter remains in its present condition.

A REMINDER.

The News Review reminds the Tribune that council made this paper the official organ of the city because it is read by the general public, and advertising matter reaches those for whom it is intended when published in the News Review. The business men of council realize the importance of advertising, and know that the News Review, if used by merchants to announce their wares, possesses the merit required to bring ample return for the money expended in the public service. For every dollar spent by the city in announcing the public busness the taxpayers receive just and honest equivalent, while if the Tribune was the official paper, not one-tenth the people in this city would ever see what the authorities have officially to say. As it is, the Tribune is sent each week to many persons who never think of paying a cent in subscription, and would laugh a collector to scorn if he attempted to collect a bill, as its news is ancient history long before it reaches them. The Tribune has so long fed upon the scraps which fall from the political table that it is deeply pained when it sees the News Review being paid for what it does, and no more. This paper does not receive 50 per cent the amount allowed by law for public printing, yet to give the same work to the Tribune for one-third the amount would be as bad as locking it securely in a safe, where no mortal eye could even see a line or human ear know that such matter had been printed.

DEATH OF DR. McCOSH.

Princeton College's Ex-President Gone to His Reward.

LIFE STORY OF THE NOTED DIVINE

He Helped Make the History of the Presbyterian Church—One of the Establishers of the Free Church of Scotland.
Had a Great Career.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 17.—Dr. Mc-Cosh, ex-president of Princeton college, is dead.

James McCosh was born April 1, 1811, near the little village of Patnah, in Ayrshire, Scotland. His early life was spent on his father's (Ayrshire) farm.
While a student at the Universities of Glasgow and Edinburgh. While a student at Edinburgh he wrote his essay on the stoic philosophy, for which the university, on motion of Sir William Hamilton, conferred upon him the honorary degree of A. M.

In 1835 he was ordained a minister of the Church of Scotland at Arbroath, and in 1839 removed to Brechin, where he resided for 12 years. In 1843 he took an active part as a supporter of Dr. Thomas Chalmers in the disruption of the Church of Scotland and in establishing the free church of Scotland, being one of those who lost their livings by this movement.

It was also during the time of his residence in Brechin that he married Isabella Guthrie, a niece of the celebrated Edinburgh clergyman, Dr. Thomas Guthrie. During this pastorate he issued his first book, "The Method of the Divine Government, Physical and Moral," (Edinburgh, 1850). This work laid the foundation for his philosophical reputation.

The following year he was called to take the professorship of logic and metaphysics in the newly established Queen's college in Belfast, and remained there in this capacity until his removal to Princeton.

His Belfast life was laborious and fruitful. Besides performing his regular university duties, he was a member of the commission which established the Indian civil service, as well as that which framed the regulations for the higher examinations in the Scottish university, and was a successful advocate in ecclesiastical circles of the surrender of the Regium Donum.

In 1866 Dr. McCosh paid his first visit to America and received a most hearty welcome wherever he went. That year he was called to be president of Princeton college and entered upon his new duties in October of that year. Important as his labors in the old world had been, his work in Princeton was to be more important. The college had suffered severely during the civil war and was in a low condition. With characteristic energy Dr. McCosh at once set about securing additional endowments and organizing the college with a view to large development. Generous friends were at hand and money was freely furnished. New buildings were erected, old ones altered, the campus beautified, the strongest professors he could find were called to the new chairs established, the course of study was overhauled, elective studies were introduced, fellowships were founded, the discipline of the institution was put on a higher plane, and in general every part of the college was strengthened and enlarged. But the intellectual and moral part of the work was greater than the material.

In a very important sense, while he was president, he was literally Princeton itself. Unsparring and strict in requiring faithful performance of duty by others, he made the whole college move as one man. He was not only an administrator, but a great teacher. An assiduous literary worker, writing his philosophy in a most attractive style, he poured forth paper after paper and book after book. Passages in his "Psychology" and "Divine Government" are classic in the excellence of their expression. He was in strong sympathy with young men, their rare efforts for more light and knowledge and their intellectual and moral difficulties. He was their teacher, their master, their friend, and in distress their father.

Dr. McCosh resigned the presidency in 1888. Since then he has lived in the privacy of his home in Princeton. His last public appearance of note was at the Congress of Higher Education at Chicago in 1893. He was the most venerable and impressive figure of that great gathering. Crowds flocked to see him in the streets, and distinguished educators of the old and new world called to do him honor. During the past summer his strength began to fail fast, and on his return to Princeton this fall it was evident he had not long to live.

To Curtail the Flour Output.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The initial steps looking toward the curtailment of the flour output, by a six weeks' suspension of the merchant mills of the country, has been taken at a meeting of millers at the Auditorium. An agreement was formed to shut down mills for a period of six weeks, within the three months beginning Dec. 10.

Twenty-Six Suits to Be Contested.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The Republican national congressional committee has received information of the intention of three more candidates to file contests against their competitors, who will be given seats in the house of representatives on the face of the returns, making a total of 26 suits which will be contested.

Now in Y Can't Hang It.

MORRIS, Mo., Nov. 17.—Reason For-bush, the notorious Howard county murderer, knocked the sheriff down who went to feed him, took his revolver and attempted to kill the officer with it.
Forbush was recaptured after being filled with bullets. He was to have been hung at Huntsville next week. He will doubtless die from his wounds.

Purchased a Railroad.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 17.—From private sources here it is learned that the Lake Erie and Western railroad has probably purchased the Indianapolis, Decatur and Western railway. The deal is under way in New York. The general officers in this city will not talk about it.

The Forest Fires Checked.

BOULDER, Col., Nov. 17.—The telephone wires to Gold Hill, Ward and the other mining towns west of this city are down today and there is no communication with those places. People who have ridden in from Gold Hill, however, report that the forest fires have been checked.

American Association Meeting.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The circuit committee of the new American Baseball association is in session here. The association will consist of eight clubs, of which six have been placed in Chicago, Philadelphia, New York, Brooklyn, Milwaukee and Washington.

THE K. OF L. RICH

The Financial Report Shows the Order to Be in Good Condition.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—Representatives of the Woman's Christian Temperance union addressed the Knights of Labor convention this morning.
When the report of the financial condition of the order was made, it was shown that the grand treasury now has on hand the sum of $9,000.

A schedule of the property in the possession of the order was also presented.
Among the items on the schedule were the Knights of Labor building in Philadelphia, valued at $60,000; official Journal and plant, $15,000; Canaburg (Ind.) coal mine, $10,000; real estate at Homer, N. Y., $24,000, and other smaller properties, aggregating about $95,000 in all.
The committee on law and their report, which was referred to the committee on distribution, which was to be presented to the subcommittees, and few minor changes were made in the preamble of the organization, but the motion to "elect grand officers for two terms of two years each" was defeated by a large majority. A congratulatory telegram was sent to the National Grange, now in convention at Springfield, Ill.

Interest is now centering in the election of officers, which will not occur until the latter part of the session. Past Master Workman T. V. Powderly is now in the field and has a strong following against the present incumbent, Mr.
Powderly declines to be interviewed, and will not say he is in the field, nor will he deny the rumor. He cannot enter the assembly room without he is in possession of his traveling card, as he is a past member. So far he has not exhibited his card.

Probably Murdered by Miners.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 17.—The body of Dr. A. E. Ault, a prominent physician of Montgomery, has been found at the foot of a tree near here.
Foul play is suspected, and it may be that he has fallen by the hands of miners, one of whom, Bud Glendenning, was convicted of the murder of Dr. J. W. Davis, at Montgomery, last July. The killing of Dr. Davis was shown to have resulted from a conspiracy to get him out of the way, as he knew too much, having attended several of the miners wounded in riots during the strike in that section last spring. Dr. Ault was an ex-member of the West Virginia legislature from Kanawha county.

Two Men Killed in a Feud.

LULU, Miss., Nov. 17.—J. W. Boyd and his brother Bob, stood in a doorway in this city until they saw J. W. Harman and H. T. Lawrence approaching, on their way to dinner. Then the brothers, each armed with a shotgun, stepped forth and opened fire on the others. Harman had time to draw his pistol and fired twice at the Boyds, but without effect. Each of the brothers had his man picked out, and "The Boss" colley both of the men fell. The elder Boyd mounted a horse and rode away, while the other escaped on foot. The tragedy is the result of a feud.

Worked With Walt Whitman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Francis A.
Teall has died in Bloomfield, N. J., in his 73d year. He came to this city in 1841 and worked at the printing case with Walt Whitman, and soon became a proof-reader. He read the original proofs of Poe's "Raven" and "The Bells." For some time he was on the editorial staff of The American Whig Review and he acted as proof-reader, contributor and associate editor of The American Cyclopaedia. He was one of the principal editors of the Century Dictionary, having charge of the work at the start.

A Negro Outrages Four Women.

ATCHISON, Kan., Nov. 17.—Considerable suppressed excitement, which may end in a lynching, has been caused here by the brutal acts of a negro in this city.
Between 4:30 and 6:30 o'clock in the morning an unknown negro entered the homes of four highly respectable white ladies living within four blocks of each other and outraged them. The fiend was evidently acquainted with the habits of the male folks, as at each place they were absent at the time. The victims are Mrs. Michael Cain, Miss Rosa Cain, Mrs. Grossman and Mrs. Benjamin Poston.

Called Upon the President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The delegates to the annual convention of the Agricultural Experiment Stations, numbering with the ladies of their families, about 60, called upon a President Cleveland at the White House. They were introduced personally to the president and each received a hearty handshake.

Marries a Lady Cashier.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Dr. Gustavus Hamilton, of London, England, has taken out a license to marry Miss Katie Helen Crokin, who has been for several years in a State street candy store as cashier. His age is given as 54 years, while that of the young woman is 23.
